

My dear sister and brother in the Lord,

I offer you my sincere congratulations on your engagement and upcoming wedding. The Church shares your joy and excitement as you prepare to declare your vows before God and His Church.

This marriage preparation process is designed to strengthen your love for one another and invite you to embrace the joy of the Vocation to Marriage. I encourage you to use these months leading up to your wedding as a time to grow in holiness and to deepen your relationship with God and each other.

I especially encourage you to pray together as you prepare for your wedding. Open your hearts to God who loves you as His dear children. God desires that you have not only a joy-filled wedding day, but also a joy-filled marriage throughout your lives.

Please be assured of the Church's continual love and support as you prepare for marriage and throughout your lives together as husband and wife.

Sincerely Yours in Christ,

Most Rev. George V. Murry, S.J.

Catholics who have not yet received the sacrament of confirmation are to receive it before they are admitted to marriage if it can be done without grave inconvenience. To receive the sacrament of marriage fruitfully, spouses are urged especially to approach the sacraments of penance and of the Most Holy Eucharist.
